Understanding INMETRO Ordinance 145/22

INMETRO Ordinance 145/22 establishes the regulatory requirements for the certification of automotive components in Brazil. This ordinance sets forth the standards and procedures that manufacturers must adhere to in order to ensure the safety, quality, and performance of their products. Compliance with Ordinance 145/22 is essential for obtaining INMETRO certification, which is mandatory for automotive components sold in the Brazilian market. DWL is well-versed in the specifics of this ordinance and can guide manufacturers through the certification process, ensuring all regulatory requirements are met and facilitating smooth market entry.

Why choose DWL?

Our goal is to bridge the gap between foreign manufacturers and the Brazilian market. Despite the bureaucratic challenges, we make the entry of foreign goods into Brazil a smooth and secure process. You can trust DWL to be your reliable partner in regulatory compliance, ensuring your success in the Brazilian automotive component market.
